

Model Composition 4 – A Trip to a Beach Resort

My last school holiday was different from my usual holidays. My parents took my brother, George, and me to a beach resort in Indonesia.

We arrived at the resort in the afternoon. The place was bustling with activity. There were children playing in the pool and running on the beach. I could not wait to join them. I waited impatiently for my parents to check in and get the keys for the room. The room was at the far end of the resort. It was one of the biggest rooms in the resort. There was a huge comfortable bed in the middle of the room. A sofa was at the other end. A huge window overlooked the beach outside. After changing into our costumes, we ran out of the room and headed for the pool. Our parents decided to go to the spa. George and I spent the next three days playing in the pool or at the beach. We were delighted that we could have our meals by the poolside.

At the end of the trip, George and I were reluctant to leave the resort. We made many friends and we promised to keep in touch with them. Our parents promised to take us to the resort again.
